Potential benefits of Its VetPro:

There are various feed supplements available in market, so it's a genuine concern that why you should go for Its VetPro?

1. In Cows/Goats/Buffaloes:

- Its most prominent benefit is; it helps in increasing milk yield.
- It helps these animals to conceive normally, 1 calf per year.
- It also helps these animals in difficult conditions like during pregnancy and posts pregnancy.
- It is a product that helps in boosting animal immunity and maintaining overall growth and development.
- Say bye bye! to steroid doses; which people normally inject animals for increasing milk yield and we all know the adverse effects of harmful steroids. Chemical boosters used for increasing yield of animals not only affect animals but also affect humans who consume the chemically laden milk.

2. In Horses:

- It has 2:1 ratio of calcium to phosphorous, which is a good balance for optimum health of animals.
- It has a mix of structural and non-structural carbohydrates that assures energy before and after the race, in racing breeds of horses.
- It has all the required nutrition values for boosting up stamina.
- It also has an amino acid that is known for good skin, hair lustre, and for maintenance of health of horse breeds.

3. In Poultry birds:

- It helps in achieving an early gain in weight of birds that makes this product commercially very beneficial.
- It is very helpful in reducing steroid doses and antibiotics which are usually given to birds, as it is free from these harmful chemicals and contains all nutrition values, required in the production of quality chicken.
- It also boosts up the immunity of birds, hence reduces mortality rate in birds.
